BRITISH STRIKE CALLED OFF—GENERAL TRADES UNION COUNCIL CALLS OFF STRIKE IN ORDER TO DEAL WITH MINING TROUBLES

Conditions of Strike Settlement

London, May 12.—The conditions on which the general strike was called off are as follows:

The governmental subsidy to the coal industry will be resumed temporarily.

The lockout against the miners will be withdrawn.

A wages board will be established to revise the miners' wages, with the understanding that there shall be no revision without sufficient assurances that the measures recommended for reorganization of the mining industry by the royal commission shall be put into effect.

London, May 12.—The British general strike was called off today. Announcement of the settlement was made from Downing Street, where the general council of the Trades Union Congress met Premier Baldwin and his cabinet.

The cabinet ministers were told of labor's decision to end the conflict by Arthur Pugh, chairman of the Trades Union Congress.

The general council of the Trades Union Congress called off the strike in order to resume negotiations. Telegraphic instructions to this effect were sent to all unions.

Strike Continues
London, May 12.—The miners' strike will continue, according to Secretary A. J. Cook, until the matter can be brought before a conference of miners' delegates on Friday.

"The miners' leaders have never deviated from their position," he said.

Herbert Smith, president of the Miners' Federation, said no statement was possible regarding the situation until the miners' position had been considered by the full executive of the union. The executive was in session this afternoon.

Secretary Cook sent the following telegram to all the mining districts:

"The miners must not resume work, pending decision of a national conference convened for Friday next in Kingsway Hall, London at 10 a.m. Please send delegates."

Mr. Cook this afternoon said: "It is my intention and that of my colleagues to report fully to the national conference and it will be for the men to decide what action they wish to take in light of the circumstances after the report."

Resume Negotiations
"In order to resume negotiations, the general council of the Trades Union Congress has decided to terminate the general strike today, and telegrams of instructions are being sent to the secretaries of all the affiliated unions."

"The members before action must await definite instructions from their own executive councils."

has been given. As far as we are concerned, we still maintain our previous position."

Labor Called It Off
London, May 12.—The great British general strike was called off today.

The Trades Union Congress, which initiated the movement in sympathy with the striking miners, visited Premier Baldwin and his cabinet ministers at No. 10 Downing Street at noon and announced that the strike was over.

This action was taken, Chairman Arthur Pugh said, in order to enable resumption of the negotiations for settlement of the miners' grievances, which negotiations the government declared could not be resumed while the general strike lasted.

The Trades Union Congress forthwith dispatched telegrams to this effect to the affiliated unions throughout the country.

The individual unions, before acting, must await definite instructions from their executive councils. However, it is expected the Trades Union Congress instructions will have quick effect and that the wheels of industry, still stalled since last Monday night, will begin to turn again almost immediately.

Official Statement
The official statement of the settlement, issued from the premier's residence in Downing Street, reads:

"The prime minister, who was accompanied by the minister of labor, the secretary for India, the secretary for war, the first lord of the admiralty, the minister of health, and the secretary for mines, received the members of the general council of the Trades Union Congress at 12:20 o'clock this afternoon at No. 10 Downing Street."

"Mr. Pugh announced on behalf of the general council of the Trades Union Congress that the general strike is being terminated today. Mr. Citrine, secretary of the Trades Union Congress, afterward made the following statement:

"In order to resume negotiations, the general council of the Trades Union Congress has decided to terminate the general strike today, and telegrams of instructions are being sent to the secretaries of all the affiliated unions."

"The members before action must await definite instructions from their own executive councils."

"Signed, Arthur Pugh, John Reynolds, J. H. Jones."

Public Believed
Almost as soon as the decision was made known to the cabinet, it was flashed throughout the country.

by radio to the anxious public, who had been informed earlier that strong peace rumors were in the air.

In the London hotels and restaurants, announcement of the great news was received with almost hysterical cheers and handclapping, and a moment later when an orchestra on the radio struck up "God Save the King" thousands sprang to their feet and stood at attention.

The general strike began last Monday at midnight, being called to support the miners in their stand against reduction of pay and lengthening of working hours.

The number of men who responded to the strike call, was never definitely fixed, either by the government or the congress, but some authorities placed the figure as high as five million, including the 1,120,000 miners.

Coped With Strike
The first effect of the strike was to tie up transportation and the government hurriedly recruited volunteer workers. Measures planned long in advance to cope with such contingency were put into effect to assure the population's food supply and distributing centres were organized in all the large cities.

There were minor disorders in various parts of the country. Most of these disturbances, which arose through attempts to stop the operation of the volunteer services were attributed, however, to disorderly elements, rather than to the strikers.

Samuel and Pugh Did It
The termination of the general strike is based on negotiations conducted unofficially by Sir Hubert Samuel, chairman of the royal coal commission, and Chairman Pugh of the general council of the Trades Union Congress, the latter accepting Sir Herbert's proposal as a basis for resumption of negotiations.

The news was conveyed to A. J. Cook, the miners' chief, as he was leaving the headquarters of his union for lunch. He stood a moment in silence, and then said he had received no official intimation from Downing Street.

Frank Hodges, secretary of the miners' international federation, then drove up. Mr. Cook ran to meet him and immediately told him the news. The two men looked at each other for a brief moment and then with a grim smile and a shrug of the shoulders, Mr. Cook drove off.

J. H. Thomas, the railwaymen's chief, who had so much to do with the peace parleys, was on the verge of tears as he left the conference in Downing Street.

Someone asked him if he had anything to say, he shook his head and in a tremulous voice, said: "Nothing."

On the other hand Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, who is credited with having had much to do with the government's conduct of the situation, appeared with a broad smile.

Wall Street Reacts to News
New York, May 12.—Termination of the British general strike today attracted a flood of buying orders to the stock market, rallying prices one to five points at the opening.

General Electric and Dupont scored the largest gains, while a long list of one to four points advances included such representative issues as American Motors, U. S. Steel, Int. Mercantile Marine, Atchafson, N. Y. Central and Baltimore and Ohio.

Sterling exchange rebounded to $4.85 1/2.

New Peace Conditions
London, May 12.—Sir Herbert Samuel, as chairman of the royal coal commission, which made the report on the British coal industry, about which the conflict centred, was the natural go-between in the settlement of the general strike.

His memorandum, which the general council of the Trades Union Congress accepted as basis for the calling off of the general strike and resuming negotiations on the coal controversy, contains the following points:

1.—The coal subsidy to be renewed for such considerable time as may be required.

2.—Creation of a national wages board, including representatives of the miners, mine owners and neutrals, with an independent chairman, to revise the miners' wages.

3.—It is understood there shall be no revision of the previous wages without sufficient assurances that reorganization of the coal industry as proposed by the royal commission shall be executed.

4.—A committee to be named by the government with representation for the miners which shall prepare legislative and executive measures necessary to effect reconstruction of the coal industry.

The memorandum suggests that the revised wage scales be on simpler lines, if possible, than the old ones, and that they shall not adversely affect the wages of the lowest paid men.

It also suggests measures to prevent the recruitment of new workers over 18 years of age into the industry if unemployed miners workers displaced by the closing of uneconomic collieries shall be transferred, with government assistance, as recommended by the royal commission.

It is estimated that 250,000 men will be displaced in the mining industry by execution of the plans for complete reorganization of the industry.

WHEN UNITED STATES FILLS UP

United States, says the Federal Census Bureau, has increased in population 11,425,197 in six years, and is increasing, at present, at the rate of nearly 2,000,000 a year.

What will happen to Canada when United States fills up?

Filling up does not necessarily mean that every area will be dotted with people, with standing room only, but that the areas on which people can make a living in competition with Canada and the rest of the world will be taken up.

When that happens, millions will step over into this Dominion.

For instance, no enterprising young man will try to slave out a living on the stony farms of New England when those highly productive areas in California are available. On some of those Eastern farms of 1 1/2 to 3 tons of grapes can be grown. On the Pacific Coast, 11 or 12 tons can be grown in a similar area. The same thing applies to alfalfa and nearly every kind of soil crop.

And what applies to those products applies also to grain.

Twenty million acres of virgin land in the Peace River will grow more bushels per acre than any land on the North American continent. And no ambitious young American farmer is going to toil his life away on some little worked out plot at home when this wonderfully productive area in Canada lies ready for his energy.

With United States filling up at the rate of 2,000,000 a year this migration is bound to occur eventually. But why should Canada wait until United States fills up?

Peace River should be given rail connection with Pacific tidewater

BUILDERS OF CANADA

In the 256 years that have elapsed since King Charles granted a royal charter to the Hudson's Bay Company in Canada, trade and commerce has advanced from a despised sideline to the foremost factor in civilization. And in the history of the development of the Hudson's Bay Company has been written, in concrete and condensed form, the whole history of modern business.

The world has passed from the age of conquest to the age of trade. It has passed from the age of exploitation to a new age of service.

Three centuries ago, the best brains were conscripted to the task of winning battles and consecrated to the business of conquest. Today the best brains are conscripted into the business of filling hungry stomachs and clothing naked backs. Commerce has humanized intelligence.

Those gentlemen adventurers who penetrated into the fastnesses of Canada for the purpose of exploiting the wilderness and recouping their family fortunes, stayed to play a major part in the building of the nation.

Two hundred and fifty-six years of commerce have accomplished something that Rome, with all her legions, could not accomplish in centuries of conquest.

MOTHER'S DAY

Man has promoted himself from savagery to civilization on a number of myths which warm his soul and elevate his spirit. Mother's Day represents one of those myths. It is ridiculous to suppose that all mothers are divine beings worthy of worship. There are selfish, mean and unworthy mothers by the thousands. But men and women grow in the image of their ideals. And it is the ideal of perfect motherhood that raises and stimulates women to better thoughts and better actions. Humanity's ideal of motherhood has been the greatest factor in the civilization of women. The mythical divinity which mankind sets about a mother tinges that mother with a trace of real divinity. She grows into a pattern that her kind creates for her. She unconsciously tries to be worthy of the love her children bear for her.

Mother's Day perpetuates a myth. But it is a myth that swells the heart of the world and expands the best and finest instincts of which humanity is capable.

THE NEWSPAPER AND CIVILIZATION

Because the general strike has stopped publication of most newspapers, the British Government is issuing a daily news journal of its own. Its first issue contains this announcement:

"Nearly all the newspapers have been silenced by violent concerted action, and this great nation, on the whole, the strongest community which civilization can show, is for the moment reduced in this respect to the level of African natives, dependent only on rumors which are carried from place to place."

"In a few days, if this were allowed to continue, the rumors would poison the air, raise panics and disorders, inflame fears and passions together and carry us all to depths which no sane man or any party or class could care even to contemplate."

The newspaper's place in civilization is fully appreciated only when its service is withdrawn or suspended.

CURRENT ATTRACTIONS

directorial chaperone of Victor Fleming. Jack Holt, Esther Ralston, Ernest Torrence and Louise Dresser are featured at the head of a large and competent cast.

The mock pageantry of the law and the unequal struggle between right and wrong form an interesting and powerful theme for this new romance-drama, which comes to the Empress Theatre soon for a three day's run.

The story, in brief, portrays the thrilling romance of a young prosecuting attorney, who is forced to sacrifice the girl he loves to adhere to his ideal of duty. The action is from the grim routine of the criminal courts to the smart social atmosphere of Fifth Avenue's exclusive homes.

Every sequence in "The Blind Goddess" is said to be a climax in itself, and each sequence as it is unfolded leads up to the tremendous courtroom scenes where Esther Ralston, daughter of Torrence, the murdered political boss, demands the life of Louise Dresser, the woman charged with the crime, who later proves to be her own mother!

WILLIAM DE MILLE'S NEW PRODUCTION, "THE RUNAWAY," HAS A GREAT CAST—GEORGE BANACROFT, CLARA BOW, WILLIAM POWELL, AND WARNER BAXTER ARE FEATURED

What happens when a pretty little "hard-boiled" actress hides from justice because of a crime she hasn't committed? That's the basic thought about which William de Mille's new Paramount production, "The Runaway," is based.

In the hotel room of a man she loves, while "on location" with a movie company, he is accidentally shot and seriously wounded. Not knowing from whence the bullet came, and in a paroxysm of fear, the girl dashes out to head for the hills.

A young Kentucky mountaineer, on his way home, is appealed to for help and he agrees to take her across the state line. No questions as to her running away—he asks only two things—that she change her clothes and wash the signs of a "painted woman" from her face. So he takes her home—not at all the chic actress—but merely a very much frightened little girl in overalls a lot too big for her.

What happens? Do they fall in love with each other? How do the mountain folk take to the girl? Will her old sweetheart find them? This and much more will you discover on seeing the picture.

Clara Bow's girl, Warner Baxter the rescuer and William Powell the man who is shot, while George Banacroft is seen as Baxter's enemy. Albert Shelby LeVino adapted "The Runaway" from Charles Neville Buck's magazine story, "The Flight to the Hills." It comes to the Empress Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

DIRECTOR WM. DE MILLE
CLAIMS A NEW RECORD

What practically amounts to a record is William de Mille's achievement in directing "The Runaway" for Paramount. As those who read Charles Buck's novel know, the story has to do for the most part with the Kentucky hills. And—even though it shows the life of the mountaineers, there isn't a single revenue officer or whiskey still shown in the film.

A quartet of fine players is featured. They are Clara Bow, George Banacroft, William Powell and Warner Baxter. "The Runaway" will be at the Empress on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

BRITISH MINERS' CHIEF
PREDICTS EARLY END TO STRIKE

London, May 11.—Indications of an easing in the general strike deadlock became more pronounced this afternoon. A. J. Cook, the miners' chief, declared:

"Peace is possible at any moment, terms that will give economic security to the miners."

Numbers of people had been approaching the miners' leaders, he asserted, with a view of settling the deadlock.

At almost the same time a government spokesman was saying to the newspapermen: "Without being unduly optimistic, I think we may say that the tide has turned. There is a tendency all over the country for the strikers to drift back to work."

The Trades Union Congress, which has charge of the general strike, scouted this statement, reiterating that the solidarity of the men was being maintained.

Reports of peace negotiations with Sir Herbert Samuel, president of the royal commission, as one of the central figures, continued to fill the air, but neither side would discuss these reports.

Church Adds Voice to Plea for Peace
The North Wales presbytery added its voice to the pleas for peace by telegraphing the King, asking him to call a round-table conference of all the leaders concerned.

The Trades Union Congress denied the issuance of further strike orders, but said the "second line of defence" men, including the electric and gas workers, were continuing to walk out on their own initiative.

The Trades Union Congress denied was prompted by a Belfast message saying that the Labor Council there had received intimations that the engineering and ship-building trades would cease work tomorrow.

Wages and Hours Must be Maintained
A. J. Cook, the miners' chief, said any settlement must be one that would at least maintain the present working conditions and hours of the miners.

"The Miners' Federation executive," he said, "today reviewed the situation in the light of messages received from all over the coal fields appealing to it to stand firm against a compromise either on hours, wages or national agreement."

Declares Miners Still Stand Firm
"I desire to inform the miners and the general public that we are as firm today as we were when the miners decided unanimously that there was to be no reduction in wages."

Quoting Herbert Smith, vice-president of the Miners' Federation, Cook repeated: "We have naught to give."

Cook further said there had been no negotiations and added: "There are many influences at work to find a bridge, but whatever bridge is found, it must be one to secure the status quo at least, for the miners."

Definite Peace Move in Progress
London, May 11.—Definite though underground peace movements are in progress, the British United Press learned today from the authority of one of the most prominent labor leaders.

Both sides, however, are doing their best to conceal the development which is surrounded with greatest secrecy.

The desire for peace is growing stronger. Labor men have lost the confidence of the first few days of the strike, and are beginning to regard the outlook very seriously, and with real dismay.

This must not be taken as an indication that Labor is suddenly going to give in, because the fighting spirit of the working class is still great and the gloomier they become the more determined they often are.

What it does mean is that Labor

FROM CANADIAN WOMEN

Government House, Edmonton. A Committee has been formed in Eastern Canada for the purpose of raising a fund, from Canadian Women, with which to purchase some memento to be presented to Lady Byng, prior to her departure for England.

I have been asked to take charge of the collecting of the fund in the Province of Alberta.

All subscriptions, however small, will be greatly appreciated, but it is suggested that the maximum subscription be limited to one dollar.

I will be very glad to receive any monies the members of organizations may wish to subscribe. Any monies collected have to be in Ottawa early in June so it will be necessary for subscriptions to reach Government House not later than the end of this month.

This appeal is being sent to all Women's Organizations in the Province and it is hoped that Alberta will not fall behind the Sister Provinces.

Yours very truly,
Eva C. Egbert,
Government House,
Edmonton.

A HEALTH ITEM OF INTEREST

It will be good news to our readers that they now have available, a most effective means of promoting health in the home by eliminating the diseases that are transmitted by flies and mosquitoes—FLIT, the remarkable insecticide which has been perfected by the Standard Oil Company of N.J. is now obtainable in Canada at almost any Drug Store, Hardware Store or Grocery Store.

For years the Research Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company of N.J. were engaged in developing a type of insecticide that would be clean, safe and easy to use. At last their expert entomologists and chemists succeeded in perfecting a thoroughly scientific product superior to the old methods of killing insects, that it kills all of them that come anywhere in the neighborhood of the application of the spray, and that is very quick and sure in its action.

Having found this wonderful answer to the insecticide problems, they called it "FLIT," and under this name it has attained a huge sale in the United States, and is in fact widely recognized as an aid to home health, by reason of those qualities which make it sure death, not only to flies and mosquitoes, but also to moths, ants, bed bugs and roaches. This wonderful product is now on sale in all parts of Canada.

Sprayed into cracks and crevices where insects hide and breed, FLIT destroys both the insects and their eggs. An added advantage is that FLIT will not stain the most delicate fabrics. This has been proved by extensive tests.

Which side is right? Well, you never heard a man called a hypocrite for espousing the wrong side.

The most successful reformer is middle age.

BUY AT HOME SPEND YOUR MONEY IN MACLEOD

Purchases representing thousands of dollars are lost to us, to our trade, to our clerks and employees, to our laborers and artisans, to all the people of Macleod who exist on the products of their work. This money, if spent at home, would help to recreate Macleod financially, give a wider field of activities in business, would be helpful to every resident of this town.

If we purchased regularly from local merchants, this money would circulate in Macleod in a welcome manner. Our merchants merit our patronage; it is to our interest, and the duty of all of us to encourage the local merchant. He is one of us, he lives among us, he has the right to be encouraged by us, he is anxious to have our custom, and to give us satisfaction. We should under all circumstances give him preference, price for price, quality for quality. And nearly always the price that our local merchant asks is, if we compare the quality, just as cheap as that of the outside merchant.

Never purchase merchandise by catalogues from foreign houses before assuring yourself that you cannot procure the same articles, of the same quality (and frequently of better quality) at the same price from your local merchant.

Many Settlers Come

The annual convention of the Western Canada Irrigation Association will be held at Medicine Hat July 27, 28 and 29 this year. One of the prominent speakers will be I. D. O'Donnell of Billings, Mont., an irrigationist who pays particular attention to sugar beets. Owing to the establishment of the new sugar beet industry in the irrigated districts of southern Alberta, Mr. O'Donnell's addresses will be interesting.

Commencement will be made shortly on construction of the proposed branch line of the E.D. & B.C. railway northwest from a point near Busby, north of Edmonton. The line

Big Oil Production
The Royalty No. 4 well in the Turner Valley field south of Calgary is producing more oil now than all the wells in the province of Ontario together, according to an authoritative statement. The total Ontario production for 1925 was 143,000 barrels, which was less than the total production from the Royalty well.

Various interests concerned in Alberta are united with the Provincial Government in the attitude to be taken in connection with the investigation into freight rates to commence before the Dominion Railway Commission shortly.

THE LAWN
The growing of lawns on the Prairies is particularly difficult because of the lack of sufficient moisture in most seasons. Several grasses and mixtures have been tried out at the Dominion Experimental Station at Rothorn and the most satisfactory is a mixture of fifteen pounds of Kentucky Blue grass seed and one pound of White Dutch clover seed sown at the rate of one pound to five hundred square feet. Preparation for the lawn must begin the year before and perhaps the most satisfactory method is to give it a heavy coating of manure and plant potatoes. This enriches the soil, cleans it of weeds and leaves the soil in splendid physical condition. After such preparation the soil should be raked level and firmed. If this is done in the fall an opportunity is afforded to see any depressions that may develop during the winter. In the spring as early as the ground can be worked rake and level again and sow the seed and rake it in and roll it. Be careful in sowing and raking to spread the

SUITABLE PASTURES FOR GROWING PIGS

Pastures are desirable for economic pork production, especially for young growing pigs and brood sows. Pastures provide abundance of cheap feed, and considerably reduce the proportion of concentrates required. Shade should be provided for pigs in pasture, as well as plenty of fresh water. The choice of pasture crops will depend largely on soil and climatic conditions.

At the Experimental Farm, Indian Head, such pasture crops as rape, oats, barley, sweet clover, rye, millet and various mixtures have been under observation for a number of years.

Rape has proved to be one of the best pastures under test, from the standpoint of economical gains and the provision of succulent feed throughout the summer and fall months. A good stand of rape pasture is capable of carrying from fifteen to twenty pigs per acre.

Fall rye has also given good results as a hog pasture, and while possibly not so palatable as rape, it provides abundance of succulent feed early in the spring. Fall rye is to be recommended particularly as an early spring pasture.

The coarse grains, such as oats, barley, etc., sown alone or in combination, are satisfactory when used as pastures. To obtain best results with these mixtures, the pigs should be turned on when the growth is from six to eight inches high.

Every breeder and feeder of hogs should provide a suitable pasture for the growing pigs; brood sows, and stock hogs, and thereby improve the health, thrift and condition of the herd, and, at the same time, reduce the cost of pork production.

Ah, yes; there are sex things in the Bible. But they aren't there to promote sales.

HONORED ON THIRTIETH WED- DING ANNIVERSARY

On Saturday evening of last week a social bridge party was held in the parish hall, the occasion of the party being the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. V. Price, C.P.R. station agent, Macleod. There were over 60 friends present to show their respect and esteem for the worthy couple. Mesdames Little, Gilroy, Doney and Marks, were the moving spirits in organizing the happy event, and carried out their duties in a most commendable manner. Bridge was played until about ten o'clock, after which very dainty refreshments were served. The prizes were then awarded to the successful competitors. Ladies' first, Mrs. Laycock; ladies' consolation, Mrs. Ray Baker; gentlemen's first, Mr. D. J. Grier; gentlemen's consolation, Mr. W. V. Price. Thereafter the event of the evening took place, when Mr. and Mrs. Price were asked to step forward. Mrs. Little read a short but felicitous address, congratulating the happy pair on attaining the thirtieth anniversary of their wedding day. Little Miss Betty Gilroy then stepped forward and presented Mrs. Price with a beautiful silver flower basket, filled with sweet peas. To say that the worthy couple were surprised does not express their feelings, for they hadn't the least idea that the party was specially for them, until they were called forward. Mr. Price made an attempt to thank the friends for their kind thoughtfulness, but words failed him to express the appreciation of Mrs. Price and himself for the good wishes embodied in the address and the handsome flower basket, which would daily remind them of the many kind friends they had in Macleod. To give the finishing touch to the ceremony, Miss Laycock played the Wedding March. The Rev. G. McComas, rector of Christ church, gave a short but appropriate congratulatory speech, after which dancing began, and in for about an hour, bringing to a close a very happy and memorable evening.

The Address

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Price:
This being the thirtieth anniversary of your wedding day it seemed fitting that a number of your "old friends" should gather together and extend to you, their best wishes for many happy returns of the day. For as these anniversaries come, one recalls fond memories of the day they celebrated, as well as the years of happy wedded life. Thus it gives your "friends" great pleasure to present this gift as a small token of our respect and affection. We trust that if any cloud should darken the light in the sky of your lives, it will always be found to have a silver lining; for: "Into each life some rain must fall—Some days be dark and dreary; But He who sees and rules o'er all, Forgets His children never." With the coming days, may the friends of the past strengthen and reach out to include others and then when the "Twilight" of life is reached you can sit in the fireside glow of home, and think of the happy days of "Auld Lang Syne."

MACLEOD ELKS' BAND CHEERS MACLEOD HOSPITAL PATIENTS

Sunday afternoon about twenty members of the Macleod band, under the leadership of John A. Edgar, motored to the Macleod hospital, and delighted the inmates and staff of the hospital and home, with a splendid program of musical selections for over an hour. Among the selections were a number of well known old time hymn tunes, which gave great pleasure and joy to the old people in the home, some of them could be heard humming the tune along with the band.

Your correspondent happened to be in the hospital at the time and heard from some of the old people their expressions of gratitude to the band for going down to help brighten their dull and monotonous lives, and their hope that the band will go again and often.

It was noted that the hospital grounds are being improved by the building of a rubble stone wall round the front of the buildings, and trees are being planted and flower pots laid out, which when completed will make a wonderful difference to the appearance of the grounds.

EMPIRE DAY PROGRAM AT MACLEOD

The Women's Institute of Macleod as has been already announced is putting on a May day celebration on May 24, when there will be a big parade and sports of every variety including May pole dances and everything suitable for the occasion. To carry out the spirit of the day in a proper manner, it is necessary to have a May queen, so the ladies organized a voting contest by the pupils of grades six, seven and eight of the public and separate schools last Friday, with the result that Miss Margaret Reid, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Reid was successful in being placed at the head of the poll.

Margaret, who is in the high school, and is 15 years of age will make a very pretty and handsome queen. The six maids of honor who were the next in order in the contest were May Grier, Rita Long, Margery Greenwood, Jean Hillard, Isabel Callic and Madeline Hewitt. The ceremony of crowning the May queen will be one of the principal features of the day.

They traveled via Florida, and Pacific Coast points northward to Vancouver and Victoria, then across the Rockies to Macleod. They report a pleasant trip in their auto house, and Mr. Hanna stated that their average progress is 200 miles per day.

J. A. White, a farmer living six miles west of Macleod, had an accident this week which resulted in laying him up for a time, and in the meantime the loss of the sight of one eye. He was cutting some wood at his own door, when a piece flew from the axe and struck him near the eye, a small portion remaining in the flesh, which was removed by a physician at the hospital, and Mr. White is receiving medical aid since and will likely regain the sight of the eye when the wound is healed.

Things work out rather well. Those who have less need spend less to reduce fat.

Two things that influence man to be virtuous are sound religion and baldness.

DEATH OF "CURLY" WHITNEY

William D. "Curly" Whitney, 76 a picturesque westerner and resident of Macleod in the early days later residing in Lethbridge since the early eighties, passed away in that city on Sunday. Mr. Whitney was well known in the diminishing circle of old-timers and he will be missed at pioneer gatherings, stampedes and other events where the surviving figures of the old west delight to congregate. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Wilhelmina. His brothers, prominent ranchers, are Ben, David J., and Walter, of Lethbridge, and Al. J., of Kipp.

The late Mr. Whitney came west with the N.W.M.P. to Macleod in 1877, and was for several years a resident here. He was born at Pittsburg, near Kingston, Ont. In the early eighties he opened a livery barn in Lethbridge, going into partnership with Mr. Rowe, father of George Rowe of the Dallas hotel in that city. This firm was known as Whitney and Rowe. The barn was located on the present site of the Ford garage and was operated until the automobile supplanted horse-drawn vehicles.

Two-party system: The arrangement by which one organized group is kept mad at Wall Street.

Ah, well; when people were more easily shocked they were also more easily fooled.
